SIGNAL

Put your job in front of candidates who aren't actively job-searching.

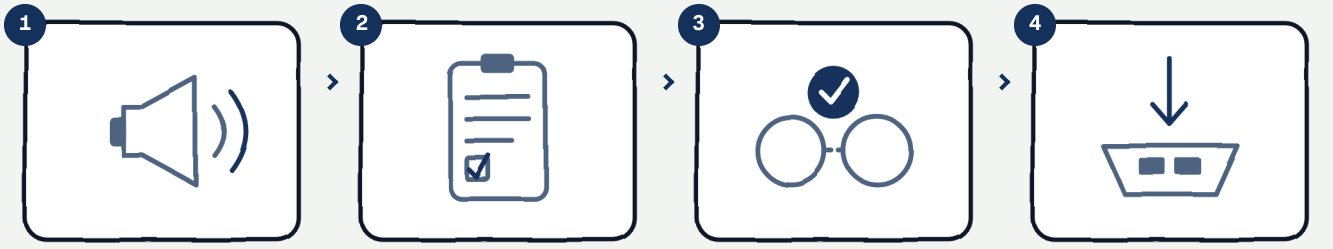

Signal automatically publishes your opening across our social distribution network, reaching people who match your role but aren't out browsing job boards today.

A dial, not a ladder

Signal scales with a dollar allocation rather than a menu of named tiers. More budget simply means more reach, with no need to pick between competing plans.

- ✓ Fully automated: post once and Signal handles the rest
- ✓ Reaches candidates job boards alone can't
- ✓ Builds employer brand awareness over time
- ✓ Works best paired with Dispatch, see our Packages

HOW IT WORKS

Seen in their feed
Your opening shows up while they're scrolling, not searching.

Quick interest form
One tap submits basic contact info and interest, no application yet.

Signal matches fit
The response is checked against your role's criteria automatically.

Lands in your CRM
Matched candidates land in your talent CRM for your team to screen.

A simplified sketch of the flow, not literal product UI.
